Landmark, shown in Solaris Weathered Wood

NEW

For homeowners who relish natural, rustic beauty this classic shingle is the perfect option. Solaris Weathered Wood is reminiscent of a sun-washed seaside village. This warm neutral color blend evokes a patina of age and durability that works with a variety of color palettes. The subtle color mix of granules picks up its cues from nature, all tempered by age and the elements.

The variegated color mix in the shingles gives a classic depth to the roofline and works equally well with both traditional or contemporary architecture. Experience the trusted performance and durability of Landmark in a weathered, yet ageless color that is the natural choice.
